

FIRST FAVOUR GOES FIRST BEFORE A SECOND FAVOUR THAT CAUSES CONFUSION AGAINST THE FIRST ONE: SOME OTHER POINTS ABOUT THIS VISION CONCERNING UNITY OF DIFFERENT DENOMINATIONS IN THE CHRISTIANITY CONSIDERED IMPORTANT IN A BULLETIN AT THIS VERY STAGE, SINCE ALL ARE CALLED BEFORE TALKING OF DEMARCATION BETWEEN THE MAJORITY AND THE FEW WHO ARE CHOSEN

It is a known fact that dangerous notion of white supremacy is now in display and at its top gear. It also goes with a perception of unequal distribution of the fortunes of this world or that of the one to come. Thereby suggesting favouritism to some people against others, even when such is not true or when the assessment is not done with a balanced view. (One of the cases the almighty God is poised to address for a balance View over His love for His creatures both human beings and spirits). This is to prove to all who supposed to know at this very stage that He has a principle of distribution in which first favour goes first before second favour that normally causes confusion against the first one. some scriptural quotations of which interpretations and explanations would go hand in hand with those of this very case are, "I favour who so ever I choose to favour and those I love I chastise" (with an intention that he who laugh last laugh best).

PRACTICAL CASE TO ILLUSTRATE WITH BEFORE CONTINUATION

There was a day a group of young boys and some little boys were returning from evening service/football game play. A particular open handed young man who just returned for weekend from town to their village beckoned at them to come close which they did. When they gathered in front of their main gate he brought out packet of sweet, opened it up and started sharing it to them one by one. Then, at a time, he handed the remaining ones in the packet over to someone else who continued the sharing from where he stopped before he returned into their house. He later came out for a second time when he guessed that the sharing would have been over, and questioned them about it in this way, "is it enough to reach every one of you? And one of the young boys who were holding the sweet with smiling faces answered him, "Yes, everyone is given, thank you sir". But one of the few boys who stood with sad faces answered for himself saying, "they did not give me o!, and some other boys like him repeated what he said, which attracted both his interest and attention to their side. Then he asked again, "how many of you were not given? Just raise up your hands; and when they did he counted, one, two, three, four, five, before he entered inside their house for a second time. And since the same type of that first sweet did not remain in the house, he just opened up a packet of another type known as stick sweet, which was bigger, sweeter and more costly. After that, he simply brought out five in number which he shared to the people he had counted and they received them with smiling faces in the midst of those who had received the first share of such gift as a favour from him (the same young man).

In the past, some other countries of the world, played roles of civilization, greatness, or powerfulness for God's own different purposes. And these days America and Britain are among other countries of the world who are on the top leading others about physical development and civilization. And these no doubt are partly done to the detriment of morality, discipline and chastisement, through which people could apply carefulness in life for good judgment; (one of the cases to be addressed this time for God-'s own purpose).

The church of Rome and church of England are among other churches that play remarkable role to disseminate outward side of Christianity to the four corners of the earth at a given time, for popularization and easy acceptance, due to some reasons already pointed out in some other places. But these are done at the expense of desert view of Christianity through which willing listeners could get free from bondage of satan and sin as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit. One of the said cases the Lord in heaven is poised to look into in such a way that all involved who are still physically alive would experience outcome of "about turn" in any matching parade, in which the first becomes the last and vice versa. Another scripture says that new wine needs new wine skin, since those who are used to the old wine normally say that overnight is always good. These two quotations would be joined to what brother Anthony (one of the four brothers in question) said in the night before that very day he came out naked in public (22/07/91) for an important purpose.

He had appeared the same way he would be the following day and said to an on looker, "look at me!" and as he was looking at him he questioned, "Is this my appearance good? The answer given to him was no, he asked again, " is this the way I supposed to appear? And no, was repeated in answer before he continued with an explanation saying, "but this is the way you are on the spiritual side. While I am the one who has already dressed up properly that side. So you need to purge yourself and be clothed that side first, before you truly dress up properly (physically and spiritually) the way you just appear to the ignorant as if you have already done".

The two persons (in that case concerned) stand for the four brothers in question and leaders of the people who gathered as church in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, in the modern times. And the case is talking about what the Lord in heaven has done on the part of the four through whom He would now renew what it takes to move on the gospel striving track as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit. A case He has so prepared that anybody who ignores or over looks it among men will neither move on it (striving track) nor enter where it leads, this is from now till the Lord Jesus Christ comes in glory. And both interpretation and explanation of these three points above would be allowed to go round in the Christendom, so that the few men and women who are ready to drink their own cup among men for the coming kingdom, the same way Jesus Christ did as a man would do it simultaneously, which is matching words with action about Christianity to prove it doable. That the chosen people of God could obey Him any how He says, in order to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit in the midst of both physical and spiritual opponents, before another chance would be given for them to obey Him in the same way where those opponents would no longer join them.

Some of the said leaders started different denomination of churches with this desert view of Christianity in question. One of them in Nigeria who happened to start (a denomination) at the same time that this very corner stone vision began in 1970s, is physical founder of the Deeper Life Bible Church, and that view had lasted for about two decades. But this mixture of Christianity with tradition and secular government, among other stated fault on the ground, had already been there, and influentiality from bigger groups with such influence who bear the same name (Christianity) in the same community with them, but lack that view was so strong that they only produced remarkable fruit of the Holy Spirit which did not abide. Instead they later joined them who could only preach the gospel message in the midst of ignorant with specious conviction that all is well. But most of them who also stated the same different denomination of church only become famous and popular with men due to some gift for some external miracles, or such external things the majority could gain from moving after the Lord Jesus Christ. While these have nothing to do with desert view in question, that leads to freedom from bondage of satan and sin, as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit.

A lot of women are now in the front line in the church, as leaders, teachers, etc in their effort to lead man back to God where woman had led him away from, using the same criteria with products of seminary/pastoring schools to justify their spiritual stand in the midst of the same ignorant and biased majority in the Christendom. But the eyes of man are already reopened to the extreme wide to see the striving track as it is and what it takes to move on it as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit. Then coupled with the level of the gospel light that is about to shine (this time) it will be very clear that they neither have the quality to do so nor be in a position to do such. Instead those of them that belong to a group of the few who are chosen would be carried along on it; they must be putty in the hands of men who are putty in the hands of the Almighty God for abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit, (no short cut to the top of a palm tree).

It was the spirit behind the said mixed up Christianity, tradition and secular government that the Lord in heaven used brother Vitus (one of the four brothers in question) to over throw spiritually on that very day (in May 1991) that he was tied both hands and legs in the public. The people around his yard had interpreted physical side of what happened in a way that encouraged them to do so and that attracted public attention, which lasted for some hours before they loosed him. But it was when the Spiritual side of that case took place (that very day) that the Almighty God called him a perfect man, through which He explained what the Lord Jesus Christ meant when He said, "be you perfect just as your father in heaven is perfect". And it was when that was done spiritually it becomes easy to see faulty relationship between Christianity, tradition and secular government as they had been, which made it very difficult for willing listeners to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit, even though the light had shined occasionally among men, as to see the striving track. But after that very case the shape of the Christianity was restored as to enable it regain both feet on the ground before talking of its positive relationship with tradition, secular government and other religious so that abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit will be possible on the part of the few who are ready to drink their own cup among men.

That case was equivalent to that of said brother Anthony who did exactly what the Lord in heaven told him to do for this very program, and after that light shined inside the water, as a prove that the activities inside it, against the Christianity would not continue unchallenged as before, particularly on the part of the few who are chosen. It was then they moved after him as to destroy him both physically and spiritually (if possible) just as it was written in the said prophecy bulletin given to Saint Augustine Parish prayer warrior group on the said March 27th 1989, but they could not cross their limit marked by the Lord Himself about that.

(Read the following two different headlines and their contents first before continuation).

(THE FIRST HEAD LINE)

BOTH THE FEW WHO ARE CHOSEN AND THE MAJORITY THAT ARE ALSO CALLED ARE HUMAN BEINGS WHO HAVE THE SAME HUMAN NATURE AND EMOTIONS BUT REACT DIFFERENTLY TO BOTH SOME DESIRABLE AND UNDESIRABLE THINGS IN THE WORLD WHICH STAND AS DETERMINER OF A SIDE EACH PERSON BELONGS.

There are certain things considered desirable to everybody irrespective of gender or colour and there are undesirable ones to all in the same way. For instance, everybody desires respect from others and a regard as an important person in their midst, while every discerning person certainly knows that nobody desires the opposite of these. But nobody would ever get them the way everybody desires them in the midst of others no matter whom the person is. Instead, everybody gets the undesirable side of them from some people around in one way or the other, which is unavoidable. Then the only thing that makes difference between these two classes of people described above is preparedness on the part of the few to receive the undesirable side of them in good faith with the understanding that it must come for a test of faith and spiritual stand. In other words, nobody likes humiliation in the midst of others or to be treated as if he or she is nobody in such a one's relationship with some other persons around, but this is by the centre of our case on the gospel striving track. Then with the said preparedness for it, we could see it coming and also receive it as those who have been waiting for it, which is not so on the part of anybody who did not prepare for it no matter whom the person is in the gathering of all who are called in the Christendom. Instead, it is very easy for such a one to take such a case and any human person involved as equally bad, in order to treat them in the same way even when it concerns a case such a one could preach or interpret very well in public for the said track. In the other hand, everybody likes desirable side of them (respect from others and a regard as an important person in their midst) and also knows certain things which could attract them in the midst of others, together with the ways to achieve them or to retain them. But all the ways to achieve them or to retain them in the midst of others, faced in the opposite side to all the ways to get the said preparedness to receive undesirable side of the whole case.

As a result, those who get prepared to receive undesirable side, normally overlook those ways to attract, or achieve desirable ones, as if they don't know anything about them and also encourage others to do the same. While those who face that side against the system for the striving track normally be allowed to see good and importance of what they value (in human life) among the things involved as to move about them the way they do. And this is done with specious conviction that they understand the gospel teachings better, since all they struggle to achieve is good and their fellow majority equally see it as so thereby encourage them to do so which is their own portion about the whole case. It takes the same preparedness to see either" side of these cases as they are (repeated) and those who could do so in the proper way know one another through the said reaction for the system about the track which they see beyond doubt.

It is certain that some condition of things in the gathering⁹ of people for worship, normally make everybody around appear as if all that glitters is gold, including some preaching or singing of praises on to God. But some people on the part of the few are given what it takes to differentiate foot print of a cow from capital B, in such cases, which is for all who deserved to join and move with them to the end. While those who deserved to end up at a place with the majority would neither see it on their own nor benefit from it like those who prepare for it. Then when any of them is in undesirable condition as in that case above (concerning brother Anthony) they normally see what others could not see about it (such a case) and stand doing their best to prove it to the ignorant around, just as it has been about that case in question, even though most of them remain whom they are (ignorant). Because, this is part of the same astonishing suffering on the cross, which majority did not see as display of unique power of God for goodness of humanity, going on beyond understanding of the world, a case which they could only use for preaching, playing of music, etc when the suffering is over and what happened is accepted as true on their part (majority). Therefore the few men who could prepare as to see both the physical and spiritual sides of such a case never move by the gospel preaching through any of them which normally mix up with self-defeating and never stand test of time. But always stand watching to see when God Himself would allow them to see what is going on even if it is only occasionally. For sure, physical relatives of a person in such a condition that said brother was, do share from the undesirable and unpleasant effect of it against their will, just as some relatives of a successful person about material things do share from it the way human nature want it. This is part of what makes it very difficult to convince them permanently that there is anything good involved, only a few of them were convinced sometimes, which lasted for some days. Because they were sharing the same suffering (whether they like it or not) but never see anything good involved like the few, even those of them who will later see it steadily like them. And this is mostly because there are people they see as those who are closer to God than others in the general community (religious-titled men) who neither suffer such a thing nor accept that it has anything to do with faithfulness on to God (a case those of them who would later join the few would see differently).

The brother concerned accepted from the Lord in heaven the instruction about the case and that condition that followed it (in good faith) even to a fault, as a person who had received everything important for them from Him. And even though the case was pointed out in the said bulletin given to over thirty members of Saint Augustine Parish prayer warrior group on the said date (27/03/89) those who did not prepare among that number were equally ignorant of the case when it was going on (among men). His close relatives, members of his yard, marketing neighbours, a lot of those who worship in the same church with him, etc knew him as a person who put effort to please the Lord in heaven (to a fault) but stood astonished about the strange case, since they never see it to be in line with an effort to please Him. A case that never take that very shape in the past and would not happen again in the same way any time, since such a thing was destined to take place only twice in creation. A similar one to it (painful and humiliating) only took place among men for the former rain through which the later rain to come was pointed out without explanation of how it would start.

But the Lord in heaven Himself has decided to prove what happened and what is happening in the way the people who saw him in that condition and misquoted him would understand, particularly if they join the few. This is in a way they will start thanking Him for what He used the brother to do for humanity which is going to continue until they see him (brother) face to face in the preparing kingdom. It is there some people will say, "brother! We thought that your suffering in those days was as a result of some unguided zealousness about the Christianity, based on what we knew beforehand about it (Christianity). Some will even say "brother! we did not give you a befitting burial when you died because we had just asked for your baptismal card and it was not produced (part of the outward signs of Christianity the four were told to destroy beforehand) so we thought that God Himself would also treat you in the same way as an unfaithful Christian. That was before He later made what happened known to us through the brother He had sustained on the process, partly for that purpose. And here we are now with you, neither because such card was produced when we died, nor because we were given befitting burial, but because we were later converted into the same striving track, where only the few who are chosen could maintain moving in order to end up in this very place (hand work of our mysterious God).

THE SECOND HEADLINE
ILLITERACY, TIMIDITY AND IGNORANCE WERE TOGETHER
BEFORE SECULAR SCHOOL EDUCATION/CHRISTIANITY ARRIVED FOR A CHANGE TO BETTER WITH DIFFERENT IDEOLOGIES.

People in every community had their own way of life which could be different from that of another one, and most of them were mixed up as stated above. Sometimes people from one community could be frightened or be shy of mixing up with some other people from a different one, particularly those from some villages in their cases with some people from major towns, and this could be described as timid in a particular sense. Sometimes they could quarrel, fight and be in enmity among themselves or with some neighbouring communities due to one problem or, the other which they could not handle positively for peaceful co-existence. And in the most cases any sect of teachings for a better way of human life among men, normally go as if everything important to handle every aspect of human problems for lasting peaceful co-existence is contained in it. But He who created all for His own purpose has a fixed standard system of life through which abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit could be produced (the only quality that enables a man to tolerate every other person in an area to His own glory). That is to say that misunderstanding, quarreling, etc as to separate into enmity would neither start through him, nor be fueled by him when someone else started it, instead he could be used to handle it for peaceful coexistence. He would not start any case to the glory of any contrary spirit or support a person who started it. And this is the only quality that would magnet and join all His chosen people; which will now start here among us in preparation to enter where everyone involved would have all it takes to live in the same way for all time. He knows that no side of the people with any type of teaching for goodness of humanity, or for peaceful co-existence could boast of this standard in their midst as of now, and He is also ready to prove this to every discerning person among men. So that all who could not meet up with the said standard would have their former view or perception over the whole case positively countered when there is still time to amend before they would be allowed to maintain specious conviction over it (their former view). While those who are to play any negative role on the process, either against the system or against the people involved, would only do so because it is their own portion to do it, and not 'because the case lacks adequate clarity to any positive minded and discerning individual.

Certainly illiteracy on its own part, never mean unwise as some people regarded it today, but unable to read and write. It neither means ungodliness nor means wickedness. To say that one is educated in the way of the world (cutting of eye teeth) never mean that the person is trustworthy or reliable on to God or humanity. But that the person could read, write, speak on official language, or some of them etc which is not yet talking of trustworthiness on to God or fellow human being, or lack of it, still the regard given to it among men these days seems to suggest it, which is wrong. What this very point is saying in essence is that, as long as wisdom in the usual way of life, relating to school education is concerned, there are people who are both wise and educated. Again, there are people who are neither wise nor educated and there are also people who gained only one of them and lacked the other. That is they are either wise but not educated or educated but not wise and there are simple ways either side of them prove themselves to discerning people before talking of trustworthiness to those who deserved it from them or lack of it. While the wisdom which is used to overcome the world for the preparing kingdom of God, do appear like foolishness in some areas, on the part of those who could not see the hidden treasure in the land. And this is undermining their own level of secular, or religious education, which they never noticed on their own any time without divine intervention.

Illiteracy, timidity and ignorance were together in most of the countries of the world before secular school education/Christianity arrived for a change to better with different ideologies (repeated). And in the most cases they mixed up with ungodliness (involving some social, or religious vices) which equally deserved a change to better in the general sense of it. But the secular school educational system for a change to better shows more concern to a civilized life style that would make a person popular with men than they shows to the said vices. They so valued it as to encourage those who are developing in the same system in their various communities for "the same popularity with men. Then when the people with that ideology entered into some communities where some people were very eager to live part of godly life, under some idols, due to their ignorance of the said standard set by God for abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit, they simply discouraged them for their own system.

For instance, there were people who had some guide lines in their community about communication between male and female persons, and that was just to avoid such vices that normally result from careless communication as so. They also had some guide lines on the part of those of them who acquired material things or what they desired in the community with fear of the same idols they served to avoid being influenced by others against that. And they passed these to their growing relatives so that they would know how to communicate with those who lacked fear of negative outcome of carelessness about them in the community. They knew that evil communication corrupt good manner and avoided corruption in the community through those guide lines. Then when this very system of education came in their midst, it simply gathered people together and mixed them up against those guide lines. And at the same time they were presented with some good and attractive things they needed for pleasant life in the community. So the people complied with them about that, hoping- that all was for a better tomorrow. But the result is evil communication has taken over and corrupted good manner, which is general corruption in the community. Since the ways to gain or achieve those good and attractive things in the community are corrupt and the guide lines to avoid corruption is ignored and over looked by all in the community.

On the part of the Christianity, the people concerned at the initial stage of it had the same guide lines about male and female persons in the community and a way of communication with those who acquired material things or anything they desired carelessly in the midst of those who did so with fear of failure before God. That was also with the understanding that evil communication corrupt good manner and they avoided corruption in the community through those guide lines. But when they received the teachings of Christianity and also received the promised and given power that goes with it for salvation of human souls from bondage of satan and sin which could lead to production of the said abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit, the case changed from the way it had been beforehand. In the sense that they could mix up with anybody in the community without the fear that evil communication could corrupt their good manner. Instead they knew that through their own preaching under the leadership of the Holy Spirit, coupled with their good manner they could convert some bad persons in the community to become good. They equally had all it takes to preserve their good manner in their cases with those who continued with some negative remarks in their midst. That was with hope that they might later be converted to their positive side, if not so, (at least) the forces behind them cannot influence those who are chosen to join them on the negative side. And that had lasted for some time before the case changed as it has been described above, caused by failure to have preparedness for such communication the way the Lord Jesus Christ did as a man. Together with some other faults pointed out above, including the same mix up for secular school education that ignores and over looks those important guide lines to avoid general corruption in the community.

That a person could read, write, speak some official languages etc (no doubt) are both good and important as long as the usual way of human life is concerned, which is basic purpose of school education. But when it concerns spiritual mindedness among the chosen people of God, nobody has ever gone to such school for it, even though the skill to read and write is always important for extension of the outcome of ordered events to some other people; this is both in the old and new testament. The system is only allowed when it concerns some religious dignifying activities or services like in the case of a high priest and other titled men among chosen people of God. But when it concerns spiritual mindedness which normally requires separation from the usual way of life, the person would either be allowed to attend such schools beforehand, or be allowed to come just as he is at the moment. Instances; Moses and some other men of his caliber in the Old Testament, did go before hand and in the New Testament, Brother Paul and some others did go before hand but when it concerned a person like Brother Peter and some other people of his caliber, they were allowed to come just as they were.

If a man who could read, write and speak some official languages is able to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit (like Brother Paul etc) he serves in his office like a producer of an important product and a great achiever who could also market it by himself. But what makes him a great achiever is only that his product and not the skill to market it by himself. Because if he could produce it as a person who could not read, write or speak any official language, he remains a great achiever as long as that fruit is concerned. He is just like a great producer and achiever but only live like a stranger in the midst of people where some advertising managers/marketing managers and their subjects, would be paid to do so for him. While only advertisement or marketing of the product never make any of them great achiever anywhere any time. The only way a man who answered a call for spiritual mindedness as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit, could start, or go further about the skill to read and write, is practicalized on our time, for this very programme which has nothing to do with the said school system. There is also concrete evidence (on the part of the said four) to prove that those who depended on the system to achieve the goal among the said members of Corner Stone Community, Benin City, Edo State of Nigeria did not see the gospel striving track when the wind started blowing to test spiritual stand on it even though a lot of them were made to see it beforehand. And for those who have positive understanding of all it takes to see what is there in such a time if there is anything about the case which had been written down for them in a strange language (to all) the question would be who will read it out for us and translate it into the very language we could understand?

In the other hand, if there is anything in their midst about such a case, which needed extension to some other people, while none of them could write it down, the question would be who will have it written-down for some other people who are going to benefit from it?

And as the case is in the modern times those who could do it are always there in any of such gathering. This could be some of the same people who could produce the said important fruit or some other people in their midst whom the Lord Himself joined to such a group for that very purpose while they normally serve like momentarily paid workers.

Again, both on the part of the said chosen people of God in the past, and their counterpart (those who had some guidelines against careless communication under some idols) shyness or bashfulness moved most female persons to cover up their faces. That was done with either their hands or some man made covering clothes, mostly when they came across some unfamiliar men to them especially damsels among them. Sometimes a damsel applied sidle movement to approach a man who looked at her in the face and beckoned her to come which served some important purposes in some areas in those days. But either the said secular school education or the gospel teachings has what it takes the women to appear with boldness in public, or before some unfamiliar people to them which also allow them to stand looking eyeball to eyeball with men and this has both positive and negative side respectively. In the sense that some educated women in the way of the world are always ready to have competition with men, to see who could stare the other out and this could be done playfully or be applied in the force of provocation (which normally have negative result). While in the other hand, a Christian sister (as a willing listener) could move with fear of God to fix her eyes in the face of a brother who preaches the gospel to her. This is simply done to know whether he has put every effort to ensure that any willing listener involved (in any case concerned) would join the Lord Jesus Christ in His preparing kingdom to celebrate victory over the world, or just a fraudulent brother with an ulterior motive. And God normally proves what is there on time to those who deserved to know which is part of positive side of the case.

As for solution to all these cases involved, it is destined that the very system practicalized in handling similar ones positively for abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit at the initial stage of the gospel, before the said changes came against it is the answer. It has resumed on our time and also been put into practice by some people before the four brothers in question were chosen for a unique process with God of which the outcome would be used for the whole case in keeping with the following scriptures. It is the will of God that His servant (spiritual minded, as to produce abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit) would be like a tree planted on a dry land, which has nothing attractive, so that people would look and overlook and treat him as if he is nobody. Let them be one just as we (father and son) are one. There are sheep (chosen people of God) that belong to this very sheep fold, who are yet to join. I will call them and they will hear my voice and follow me, the later rain will be greater than the former etc. All these are written without any explanation concerning how it would start; which remains in the hands of our mysterious God who does everything the way he chooses to do it.

THE SAID CONTINUATION AFTER THE TWO HEADLINES

That practical case used above for illustration has nothing to do with chastisement neither those who received the first favour from the young man nor those who receive the second one were chastised by him. But it was clear that first favour went first, before the second one that caused confusion against the first one and among them who gathered that place, those who laughed last laughed best.

All the spirits in heaven were one both those who were favoured with desirable gifts, or positions and those who were not favoured with them and everything was moving well in their midst. That was before the Almighty God (the chief creator) said, "let us create man in our own image and likeness!, he will have dominion over all creatures etc. And that was the beginning of a second favour, which had caused confusion against the first one among the spirits before man was created. The confusion did not stop creation of man in the image and likeness of God, but it resulted to a serious war through which the spirits were divided into two before man was created. Then in the end of the war, those who lost the battle lost their former positions in their midst and also lost permanent blessings of God. In other words, if there is any desirable gift they have or any desirable position on their side, that would only serve a different purpose for God at a given time, but would not last for all time. Again some experiences on the process may move them to laugh and smile some times, but they would not join those who are destined to laugh last which is the best. And their own favour remained part of that first one that came first before the second one that created confusion against it, while the battle they had lost made the favour temporary on their own part. It was on the part of few human beings who are destined to laugh last which is the best, that the chastisement must be applied, ordained by He who knew everything before creation of anything. And this is to avoid misuse of the little opportunity given to them to prepare for it, in the midst of oppositions both those spirits who had missed the point and the majority among their fellow human beings who could not see what they see about the whole case or maintain the sight about it among men. Already both the basic requirement (abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit) and what makes difference between the few and the majority had been pointed out before this very stage of the whole case.

Then to cut it short in this bulletin (on the part of humanity) among the chosen people of God in the first century; first favour went first on the part of the majority and the high priest, teachers of the law, etc were among the recipients before a second favour came on the part of the few through John the Baptist and the Lord Jesus Christ. That had caused confusion about God's own approved system of worship and required serious chastisement, or discipline on their part in order to see what the majority could not see about the law of Moses and the gospel striving track. It also required maintenance of the sight as to challenge those who had both authority and strong influence over almost everybody among them, but lacked both the sight for the unique track and the fear to avoid contradicting it. That was between the said Law of Moses and the gospel teachings, which had to do with former rain, through which the later one that would be greater than it was introduced without any explanation about the way it would start. Then at the tail of 20th century, it began all over again. First favour had been on the ground and the recipients were the said leaders, teachers, etc in the Christianity through seminary/pastoring schools or recipients of some gifts through the spirit poured upon every flesh in these later days, for different purposes. Among them are those who were called for some materially break through, or some external favour from God, which normally go with some testimonies about how they suffered in the past and be rejected by some of their people, before the same people who could not see the hidden treasure in the land accepted them back as their own; since their physical condition had changed for better. That was before second favour came on the part of the few which is resumption of desert view in question. It also resulted to confusion about God's own approved system of worship inside the same Christianity and required the same maintenance of sight for the unique track, as to face those who have the same authority and strong influence over the majority in the same way their caliber of men did against the former rain.

Nicodemus (one of the people in authority, who had strong influence over the majority in the first century) had said, "we know that you came from God". In the same way, we (the four brothers in question) have concrete evidence to prove that those who were made to stand against this later rain, were equally made to know what was going on, when we were there in their midst in the 20th century. They knew that the case has to do with desert view of Christianity, for the striving track and some teachings that covered them up before men, (which made most of their listeners feel that they are on the positive track, through which the expected goal could be achieved). While their true excuses both in the first century and in these 20th/21st centuries are, "if we admitted what these (common and unknown) people are saying, our own teachings would mean nothing to the people who listen to us", which only stand to serve a different purpose, but never hinder perfect will of God about the whole case.

Take note: I favour who so ever I choose to favour goes beyond mankind and spirits, before talking of how long a favour concerned would last. Instances of these: A he lizard could be more huge than some other ones around it, and that normally allows it to operate in an area like a king, which is a favour to it in the midst of others. A native cock could be huger than some other ones around it and that allows it to operate in the same way. A he dog with such hugeness normally operate in the presence of some other ones when they gathered for mating through which they multiply, while some of them would find it difficult to do the same when it is around and each has to do with favour from God to His creature. Then among men His favour goes to different type of people in different ways, both the faithful and unfaithful. Such outsiders which members of the church could refer to as heathens, the few who are chosen and the majority in the church who are on the way that semeth right on to men, are all included. He could allow some to have what others desire to have in their midst including material things, seat of power, position of influence, knowledge (of any type) highly valued in the midst of others, etc.

Therefore what makes difference about His principle of distribution in question, which concerns all that gather in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ is permanent blessings He keeps for those who are going to laugh last which is the best (repeated). And the only way He differentiates His love for them (the few who are going to laugh last) from His remarkable love for every other ones He could favour with anything else, is chastisement in the midst of others, for abiding fruit of the Holy Spirit. Then based on this fact, what anybody passes through among men in order to produce it or to maintain such a one's spiritual stand as a person who is fortunate to produce it in their midst, don't need to frighten or deter anybody who has positive understanding of it from striving track. Particularly when such a one would be made to see spiritual side of it even if it is only occasionally. And just as it happened among those believers in the first century, who later died physically one after the other, it is to happen all over again, this time. What each person suffered in the midst of others, (on the process) who died first? How long was that before others died? Or how the ignorant around them viewed their cases in those days is no longer the case now, but did they achieve the goal in their own time or not? The case about this later one, which begins on our time, is not made to be less serious than that, but tougher as some people have already seen it and also experienced it.

Again, through these wonderful explanations from above in a time like this, it is now very clear that the said few leaders who started with desert view in questions, before they joined others outside the striving track and all who never served on it (any time) are merely paid marketers of first century products by some producers and achievers on it (striving track). But there is hope, since second chance is given in which those of them who deserved to return, or join on it, would do so when the true state of things about it, are both clear and convincing to them. While the four brothers in question had started marketing the same products (from some people in the first century) before they become producers and achievers on the same track. And when the truth about the whole case is proved from above, every remarkable fruit on the process, which has to do with the later rain, would be moving hand in hand (for gospel preaching) with their counter part from the former rain and whenever abiding fruit is involved, the producer would join achievers on the same track.

So with a balanced view over what had happened before now and what is on the ground concerning God's own principle about distribution of fortunes, on the part of men, He has decided that the white men (including America and Britain) will look and see what is truly precious in the hands of the black men. And if they look at their own hands (in comparison to it) they would see that they are holding nothing. Surely, resumption of its circulation would be at the same time, for all who deserved it from the four corners of the Earth. And this (no doubt) will renew both His mysterious nature and His mysterious ways of doing things in the heart of men who could discern things positively and compare them with a balanced view. These in one hand, includes handwork of the Holy Spirit who basically encourages those who see the hidden treasure in the land (and also have what it takes to know the value) to stand for it in any case that stands against it on Earth. This is in comparison to the hand work of .white witch (or the spirit behind science and technology) who works both to make life easier and to alleviate human suffering on Earth. Since their different hand works which are equally good, are difficult for most of the people who benefit from their services to differentiate the areas these commonly work for good (both physically and spiritually) from the areas one side of them works against the other. In the other hand, is the same hand work of the Holy Spirit (on the part of the stated people) in their cases with some religious titled men, who could not see it (hidden treasure) but hold strong authority in the church. And they are always ready to claim that anybody who disobeyed them in any case has also disobeyed the Almighty God, since He is the one who put them in their various offices. Thereby making it difficult for some willing listeners to know when that is true and when it is opposite just like in those cases of Daniel, Shedrack, Meshack and Abednego and some men in secular authority. Those of John the Baptist, the Lord Jesus Christ, early apostles and disciples in their cases with some men who held some religious authorities or like this latest one that took place in our time (20th century) concerning the four brothers in question in their cases with the Roman Catholic clergy men/leaders of the Charismatic Renewal which is in line with these ones above, but yet to be proved as so to the general public.

The said Arch. Bishop Emmanuel Milingo had stated in the said LEADER NEWSPAPER, Sunday August 5, 2001, page 10 and I quote; "I have wrestled in prayer asking myself which shall prevail; my vow of obedience to ecclesiastical authority or my pledge of obedience to God?" (On quote). This is from the horse's mouth (see some other precedent bulletins). Here he is talking of his obedience to those who swore to an oath to defend a sect of doctrines at the expense of desert view of Christianity or the same obedience to God who put them in their various offices in the same Christendom. Even when the hindrance caused by their positions in the church has appeared very clear in the areas of immorality, or sexual abuse in the high places of the church.

When a case of marry today and divorce tomorrow is in the increase, when enmity among Christians and enmity with some outsiders (whom they supposed to convert to Christ) is obvious in the society, etc. These are among other vices, or signs of failure, which non-Christians could see and point out as evidence of sinfulness that the Lord Jesus Christ could handle positively for salvation of human souls, before talking of spiritual side of failure about them, which they (the world) could not understand in their own wisdom.

The predecessor of the incumbent pope saw these things before he resigned from the office, since he was, convinced that he could not introduce definitive answer or solution for them, The incumbent one had seen it in the same way, before he stated that he may also resign. But resignation, as to vacate the same office for another positive minded person, who is going to see the whole case in the same way, without lasting solution is not important. Instead, the only positive requirement now is announcement to have those concerned withdraw the authority being used for the former system against the said desert view, from there they would watch as to see what is expected of them in line with it (renewed desert view). Particularly the same positive minded ones among them, who could abandon, or forsake any vested interest in the former system as soon as they see it to be so, in order to ensure that salvation of human souls is achieved (a case they will see in a new dimension). Because this renewed view in question will be used to handle these cases on the ground the same way the Lord Jesus Christ did as a man, before those of them who are involved in any system against it would be fully convinced about the whole case. So far the use of religious authority against it, is no longer allowed or permitted on their part and negative influence against it will lose the effect in the light produced by it (desert view).

It is a known fact that whenever either of these cases concerning secular authority, or religious authority, in which man-made laws/organized system of worship against eternal verities (or laws of God) is prevalent, the men behind it normally appear so wise or powerful, as to remain the same for all time, which is not true. God proves this when He chooses to prove it or whenever any man or spirit displays wisdom, powerfulness, importance in the midst of others, etc as if such could be done unchecked by Him (the creator), He either brings it to an end or reduce the importance, which is what He is out to do. So this time around a lot of people will be made to see how all these things concerned the few who are chosen, in their cases with anybody outside their own fold. It is considered very important, in order to avoid any permanent regrettable mistake, caused by inability to know what to do, when or where two different good things go different ways for different purposes or when some leaders in the church who neither see the hidden treasure in the land, nor be in search of it, are demanding obedience from those who deserved it against that (just that something is tradition does not make it right, one of the sayings in line with the spiritual side of the whole case).

For the time being, this voice of the four brothers in question, is regarded as the only remarkable (human) voice of the few, who are chosen (this is) with expectation of increment of (human) voices on the process. But the assessment, or evaluation of individual case about it, must be in the light of this renewed desert view of Christianity, with confirmation and approval from above, beyond reasonable doubt.
